

End of Year Journaling Exercise

The end of an AmeriCorps service year is filled with bittersweet emotions as some members say goodbye to each other and the artists they have been working with throughout the year, while other members are preparing themselves for a short break before returning for another year of service. Take a moment to reflect and respond to these "end of service year" questions that will continue you down a path for starting life after AmeriCorps.

1. What new strengths or assets have you developed this service year?
2. What have you learned this year—about yourself, about others, your community, and the world?
3. What are your plans for after your service year?
4. How has your experience this service year prepared you for what's next?
5. What are your next steps for personal and professional growth?
6. Are there any projects, tasks, or deliverables that stand out to you?
7. Are there any projects, tasks, or deliverables where you did an excellent job?

8. Are there any skills that you discovered are not your strengths?

9. Are there any skills that you discovered hold little interest to you regardless of whether you do them well or not?

10. Any additional thoughts you'd like to share about your service year experience at Imagine Art?
